Come to New York

You are invited to join American and international historians, archivists and those interested in the immigration conference theme to the 2017 Conference of the National Episcopal Historians and Archivists. The Conference consists of papers, presentations, workshops, keynote and luncheon speakers, tours of historic sites, varieties of worship in our Episcopal tradition, fellowship, a major concert and, of course, excellent food!

Schedule

TUESDAY, JUNE 20 @ ST. MICHAEL'S
4-6 Registration, no evening activity

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 21
@ THE CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE
Registration, Welcome, Sessions A & B, Lunch, Tour the Cathedral, Campus & Close, Archives, Eucharist, Banquet and Keynote Presentation

THURSDAY, JUNE 22 @ ST. MICHAEL'S
Morning Prayer, Light Breakfast, Session C, NEHA Annual Meeting and Membership Rally, St. Michael's Celebration Luncheon, Choice of field trips (transportation provided), Dinner on your own, Cantrell-von Beckerath Concert

FRIDAY, JUNE 23 @ ST. MICHAEL'S
Morning Prayer, Light Breakfast, Sessions D, E, Farewell & Box Lunch

Housing

Each attendee is responsible for securing housing. You may stay wherever you like. Conference activities center around St. Michael's on 99th and Amsterdam Avenue. Time is of the essence: June in New York City is a popular season, and rooms fill up fast, so proceed promptly. Arrangements have been made at the following locations:

Hotel Newton (Register by MARCH 1 for guaranteed rates) Broadway @ 95th, 6 minute walk from St. Michael's. Full-service, boutique hotel. Mention NEHA for special rate. (800) 643-5553. thehotelnewton.com.

House of the Redeemer (After MARCH 1 rooms are released to the general public), 5th @ 95th 25 minute walk from St. Michael's (through Central Park). Retreat and guest house. Mention NEHA. (212) 289-0399. houseoftheredeemer.org.

Teachers College (After MAY 15, rooms are released to the general public) Amsterdam @ 120th, 25 minute walk from St. Michael's (past Cathedral of St. John the Divine). Large dorm style rooms. Mention NEHA. (212) 678-3235. tc.columbia.edu/housing.

Transportation

Participants will be responsible for their own travel arrangements to and from the Conference. New York City is accessible by plane, train, bus, auto and boat! Visit episcopalhistorians.org for options you may want to consider.

During the Conference, participants will be responsible for most of their own travel around the city. Do not fear! Conference coordinators will provide information, directions, advice and even hand-holding for those not comfortable with city travel.

Keynote Speaker

The Rt. Rev. Allen K. Shin is Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of New York since 2013.

ABOUT NATIONAL EPISCOPAL HISTORIANS AND ARCHIVISTS

NEHA provides a forum for exchanging ideas, gives mutual support, and serves as an archival and historical network for any who preserve, explore and share the historical dimensions of the Episcopal Church. Begun as an outgrowth of the Church Historical Society in 1961, NEHA seeks to answer the needs of church officials and leaders who know attention should be given to nurturing congregational, diocesan, and institutional historians, registrars and archivists.

This work is accomplished through the support and effort of NEHA members. Not a NEHA member? Our membership is open to individuals, congregations, dioceses and entities. Members receive the quarterly newsletter, The Historiographer.

Visit episcopalhistorians.org/membership.
